SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 21, 1862.

The speech of Mr. BAKER, delivered at Pulaski a few days since, will be found on our first page.

PROPRIETORS' NOTICE.

To-day the Union comes out on a sheet greatly enlarged. Much additional expense is thus incurred by the proprietors, without any addition to the subscription price of the paper. Under the circumstances which surround us in the present situation of the country, we have need that our friends, personal and political, should use every exertion to increase our subscription list .. We have by the enlargement made room for ADVERTISEMENTS, and would much like for the vacuum to be filled. Our business men cannot do better than to advertise in the Usios. Our circulation is already large, when we consider the length of time which has telapsed since we began the publication of the paper, and it is rapidly increasing.

The friends of the Government can do no work which will so effectually tend to restore the old and much loved order of things in this part of the country, as to add to the circulation of loyal journals in our midst, - and of these they will find the NASHVILLE UNION not the least useful. PROPRIETORS.

HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT OF THE ORIO, NASHVILLE, June 20th, 1862. Editor of " Nashville Union:"

Siz:-A notice appears in your pape this morning, signed by H. Heffren, L't. Col., &c., saying that in future, footmen will be allowed to pass over the Railroad bridge to this City at a charge of five cents.

H. Heffren, L't. Col., &c., is mistaken. Footmen will not be allowed to pass over the Railroad bridge. The Ferry boat will, as heretofore, continue her trips.

You will probably save many citizens useless trouble, by saying as much in your columns. I am, sir.

Home Protection,

We learn that fifteen thousand solulers will be raised in this State for the sup- Eddors Mismorn Democrat : pression of guerrillas and home traitors. Five thousand will be assigned to each division of the State. Several of the most popular and experienced men in the State are at the head of this excellent movement.

We said yesterday that Squire WAND, former Member of the Legislature from Smith county, took the oath of allegiance at New Middleton, a few days ago. He did not do this, but a great deal more .-He rode all the way to this city, and voluntarily took the oath of allegiance be- them his master was a rebel, and looked fore Governor Jounson.

Mr. John Hugh Smith, our loyal and thorough-going Mayor, leaves for Washington this morning in company with a number of our citizens. If any man alive hates treason and traitors more heartily than our Mayor, we have never

AT CAMP NEAR TUKA, MISS.,) June 9th, 1862.

Beneath the welcome shade of the oaks and pines which are sparsely scattered over these gentle hills, I find the main body of the Sixth Division of Gen. Buell's

In front and six miles distant, a party f engineers, mechanics and laborers are at work rebuilding the bridge of the Charleston and Memphis Railroad, over Beaver creek, which was destroyed by Gen. Mitchell to prevent the rebels from transporting supplies and reinforcements to Beauregard at Corinth. This whole region, but a few days ago, was in the possession of the rebel army, but now, not one can be found by Federal scouts or pickets.

Much of the country from Corinth to this place is poor, and none of it actually od, but as you advance eastward, along the line of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, the quality of the soil improves, and evidences of a semi-civilization begin to appear. Thus far, the main portion of the citizens are poor, and in their poverty the rebellion has brought them to pinching want. The vandal hands of the Southern chivalry have not spared the families of the poor enough to save them from well rrounded and fearful apprehensions as o the future. Indeed, it is difficult to see how starvation is to be kept from many a household in this part of Mississippi. Corn is selling at one dollar per bushel of ears, sait and coffee cannot be had-while sugar and coffee are held as fabulous prices. Nor is the supply of lomestic dry goods any better or price any lower in proportion.

Cotton is quite plenty; in some places t is stacked out in square rail pens like ike corn in the year; but cotton shirts re nearly played out. At one house, here we stopped for an hour, the good wife was trying to supply the place of otton shirting, which, in the good old days of Union and peace, was sold at ten cents a yard, by spinning upon her old cast by spinning wheel the cotton rolls sacrifice, and asked her "why she didn't which the owner has a grist mill upon the creek hard by; and yet the good woman was afraid to spare us a scanty loaf of corn bread lest her own children would run short of food. No butter por milk, nor meat could be furnished at any

Should the present effort to repair and use the Memphis & Charleston Railroad prove successful, and should the Mississippi river be reclaimed by the Federal forces, supplies can reach here from the granaries of the Northwest. But alas! money worthy of the name is scarcer than orn or cotton cloth. Specie is entirely out of the question; shinplasters, issued by railroad companies, hotels, livery stades and saloon keepers, for sums varying rom five cents up to seventy-five cents, taking its place. Some of these shinplasters are now redeemable in Confederate scrip, when sums of five dollars are presented. With such a currency, with such scarcity of provisions, and with the productive industry of the whole country paralyzed by war, it is difficult to see how great suffering here is to be avoided,

HOW THE PROPLE TALK AND PEEL, Many intelligent citizens look upon the ebellion as hopeless, and some express their thankfulness that such is the prosocot. In the streets of Inka I asked a itisen what his feelings were upon the subject of the rebellion. He looker round to see if any was observing him, and then replied. "I dare not be seen conversing with a Federal soldier, and dare terior to the "ravages of the Yankoo" not express my feeling." "Then you have had here a reign of terror," said I. Looking at me with mouroful carnestness, he replied: "Worse than a reign of | were not 25,000 troops, including armed terror, a reign of hell!!"

Yesterday a party of officers halted at the door of a non-slaveholder's house for draught of water, and while slaking heir thirst from the primitive gourd, the good woman was asked how she liked sippt. the arrival of the Federal troops, to which she replied she was more rejoiced than ever in all her life before-she hailed our approach as a sure deliverance from the wrongs and outrages committed by the Confederate army, for which she had ong and earnestly prayed. "And now," continued she, "there is one favor I ask of you; I want you to capture and kill every one of Captain Luney's company; don't for heaven's sake allow one of them to escape death."

This was said with such carnestness of manner that I was convinced the romises of outrages to be committed by ederal soldiers made by the villifying ecessionists have been fulfilled by their own diabolical deeds.

Powder Hid Under a Pulpit. GMDES COUNTY, Mo., June 6, 1862.

As no doubt many of your readers are aware, the - regiment of Wisconsin cavalry, commanded by Col. Washburn, was ordered a few days ago from Jeffer-son City to Lebanon, Mo. They started out, and by the way camped at or near one Judge Fowler's, of Cole county, Mo., and after enjoying all the hospitalities of the Judge, who was very loud in pro-claiming his Union sentiments, just as they were about preparing to ensconce themselves for the night, there came into their camp a negro boy, belonging to the Judge, asking permission of the soldiers to go with them, which was promptly denied. At last the little negro told on them as his enemies, telling them also that his master had powder hid somewhere, but he knew not where. Some suspicions having arisen among the officers concerning the Judge, it was resolved to arrest him, which they did. The next morning the Judge became somewhat fired of military life, even been able to take the night before from the guard house; so, to relieve his mind of this perplexity, he told them where they could find a little of Jackson's powder. As they thought he knew the quested to lead, which he did, soon arriving at a church building, in the neighborhood, from under the pulpit of which he took seven kegs and forty-eight cans. Of course, they thought a man so gifted. and a county justice also, would be valunble to Uncle Sam, so they passed here yesterday with Judge, negro and all. This is only an isolated case from among rise, may be set down the following : "A young lady from Secessia, and herself of most intense Secession proclivities, was anxious, as all young ladies are, to be married. She was not only axious, however, but ready and willing, and so was her bridegroom, a French gentleman of wealth and distinction. In order to make the marriage civilly legal, however, it was necessary that it should be performed not only in the regular forms required by the French law, but afterward the legation of the country to which that lady belonged. Here was trouble. The lady belonged to Secessia, and Slidell was her representative. But Slidell's blessing would be of no more value to her, under the circumstances, than any ordinary individual's blessing or enrsing; and so, after much anxiety and mental trouble, not wishing to postpone the 'happy day' till Mr. Slidell was 'recognized, (by which time she probably could ot be married, on account of the gray pairs and the wrinkles of old age,) she finally made up her mind to swallow the dose; and conducting her dearly beloved' to the Legation, they were married by Mr. Dayton, beneath the folds of the American flag, and, by a fiction of international law, upon American soil. It is said that Mrs. Slidell chided the young lady for her want of patriotism and selfwait a little while till she could have

He must also remove a heavy obstruction and destroy a powerful battery which the rebels have for nearly two months been constructing at a place called Chickneaw Bluffs, below Selma. He must also destroy batteries and obstructions at several other points on the Alabama before his gunboats can command Montgomery or Selma. Beauregard has built no railroad from Meridian to Uniontown, thus forming a connection with Selma, unless it has been done since the 24th of May, at which time the newspapers at Montgomery claimed that it ought to be done. Beauregard, in our informant's opinion, is not at Richmond with his forces. He may go anywhere himself, but there is a powerful party in Alabama-the Yancevites -- who think Jeff. Davis' management is bad enough, and they will never consent to have the army of the West withdrawn to Richmond or Charleston, Outside of the army of Corinth, and not including the rebel forces on the Atlantic coast, on the first of this month, there and unarmed raw recruits, in the whole South below Virginia; hence, to withdraw Beauregard's forces would be to allow Halleck to overrun the whole of Alabama and Georgia, besides Missis-
